16                  UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,

17                  NO. MJ17-304

18                  Plaintiff

19                  MOTION FOR DETENTION

20                  v.

21                  LOUIS ONG,

22                  Defendant

23                  The United States moves for pretrial detention of the Defendant, pursuant
24                  to 18 U.S.C. 3142(e) and (f)

25                  1. Eligibility of Case. This case is eligible for a detention order because this
26                  case involves (check all that apply):

- 27                   Crime of violence (18 U.S.C. 3156).
28                   Crime of Terrorism (18 U.S.C. 2332b (g)(5)(B)) with a maximum sentence of ten years or more.
                 Crime with a maximum sentence of life imprisonment or death.
                 Drug offense with a maximum sentence of ten years or more.

1        Felony offense and defendant has two prior convictions in the four
2 categories above, or two State convictions that would otherwise fall within these four
3 categories if federal jurisdiction had existed.

4        Felony offense involving a minor victim other than a crime of violence.

5        Felony offense, other than a crime of violence, involving possession or use
6 of a firearm, destructive device (as those terms are defined in 18 U.S.C. 921), or any
7 other dangerous weapon.

8        Felony offense other than a crime of violence that involves a failure to 9 register as a Sex Offender (18 U.S.C. 2250).

10       Serious risk the defendant will flee.

11       Serious risk of obstruction of justice, including intimidation of a
12 prospective witness or juror.

13      2. Reason for Detention. The Court should detain defendant because there
14 are no conditions of release which will reasonably assure (check one or both):

15       Defendant's appearance as required.

16       Safety of any other person and the community.

17      3. Rebuttable Presumption. The United States will invoke the rebuttable
18 presumption against defendant under 3142(e). The presumption applies because:

19       Probable cause to believe defendant committed offense within five years of 20 release following conviction for a qualifying offense committed while on pretrial release.

21       Probable cause to believe defendant committed drug offense with a 22 maximum sentence of ten years or more.

23       Probable cause to believe defendant committed a violation of one of the 24 following offenses: 18 U.S.C. 924(c), 956 (conspiracy to murder or kidnap), 2332b (act
25 of terrorism), 2332b(g)(5)(B) (crime of terrorism).

Probable cause to believe defendant committed an offense involving a victim under the age of 18 under 18 U.S.C. 1591, 2241, 2242, 2244(a)(1), 2245, 2251, 2251A, 2252(a)(1) through 2252(a)(3), 2252A(a)(1) through 2252A(a)(4), 2260, 2421, 2422, 2423 or 2425.

4. Time for Detention Hearing. The United States requests the Court conduct the detention hearing:

- At the initial appearance
 After a continuance of _____ days

DATED this 24th day of July, 2017.

Respectfully submitted,

ANNETTE L. HAYES
United States Attorney

JOSEPH SILVIO
Special Assistant United States Attorney
